

Events

In the past, ACS has mainly focused on the academic development of its members. Two international academic conferences have been successfully held in 2006 and 2007. In this year, besides maintaining our academic excellence, ACS is prepared to provide its members with even more events and benefits. There will be more cultural-oriented activities and more internal academic exchanges among ACS members. China Research Seminar Series
More details will be included in our events announcements, please subscribe to our mailing list for more information.